

THIRTY-SIX HOURS

To Clear Away Wreck on the Henderson Bridge Trestle.

SIX HUNDRED MEN WERE AT WORK.

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 14.—The last timbers of the wrecked trestle on the Indiana side of the river were put in place early this morning after thirty-six hours of rushed work by a gang of six hundred men and three working crews, and all trains are now running on schedule time.

Yesterday Henderson and Evansville were cut off from railroad communication and the only means of traffic was by the packet Jewel, which attended to the passengers, express and mail service of the three roads which used the L. & N. bridge across the Ohio river.

The Jewel made several trips yesterday and last night. About six o'clock last evening the Jewel pulled up at the L. & N. wharfboat and discharged her cargo of mail, the first to be received in Henderson from across the river since the accident. Some twelve wagon loads of mail were unloaded in this city and a number of passengers were brought in. The Jewel was met at the wharf by an L. & N. train.

About 150 passengers for Evansville were transferred to the boat. The Jewel made a return trip to Henderson at 11 o'clock last night.

The cause of the wreck was a broken flange of a wheel on a car close to the engine. On examination of the wheel it showed that a crack had existed for some time, as the fresh breaks are very plain and the old cracks show rust.

The disabled car left the track immediately after making the first curve about a mile from the first bridge abutment, and for a short distance from where the car jumped the ties are torn and splintered into kindling wood all the way to where the span was entirely destroyed.

The train crew escaped without a scratch, as they were either on the engine or the caboose, neither of which left the rails. Two men who were stealing a ride were caught in the wreckage and were released after several hours of agony. Both had their right legs crushed and were taken to Evansville, where amputation was found to be necessary.

The hoboes had boarded the train at Trenton, Ky., and were stealing a ride north. The hospital authorities gave out their names as Ben Gusty, of Greenville, Tenn., and Dave Rahl, of Cleveland.

Gusty was riding in a carload of heavy timbers and Rahl was in a car loaded with pig iron. The heavy timbers and the iron ground the men's legs into a pulp of mangled flesh.

Between eleven and fifteen cars were destroyed, being crushed into kindling wood. The cars wrecked were loaded lumber, cement, coal, pig iron and one car of merchandise, the contents of which was not greatly injured.

All the cars fell directly in the right-of-way, and the long delay in repair work was caused by the removal of the debris, which was necessary before the work on the timbers could be begun. In some cases the cars were piled three deep, and in other instances parts and pieces of the wreckage were thrown a distance of more than a hundred feet. The trestle was completely wrecked for about 200 feet and was greatly damaged for almost twice that distance. The trestle is about 25 feet from the ground. Hundreds of people from Evansville and scores from Henderson visited the scene of the catastrophe.

Passengers of train 93 of the L. & N. were transferred to Henderson last night by the Steamer Jewel.

SEVENTEEN CARS SMASHED.

Wreck on Henderson Bridge Trestle Greatly Delays Traffic.

A wreck at an early hour Saturday morning of a Louisville and Nashville freight train shortly after crossing the Henderson bridge was caused by a broken flange. Seventeen cars were wrecked. About 400 feet of track and trestle were torn to pieces. At the point of the accident the trestle was about 25 feet high. The train was a long one. None of the train crew was hurt but two unknown men, supposed to be tramps, were rescued from the debris. Both are terribly injured and it is believed that neither can recover. Five hundred workmen were at the scene of the wreck early Saturday and it took them until Sunday to repair the damage sufficiently to allow traffic to resume. In the meantime passengers were handled between Henderson and Evansville by boat.

Mayor W. F. Burr Falls and Bruises Himself.

Saturday evening about dusk Mayor W. F. Burr started down the steps leading off the back porch into the yard at his home when he gave way under him and he fell to the ground. Mr. Burr was at home alone and called for assistance which soon came from the Victory home, next door, and he was assisted up and into the house. Medical aid was called and it was found that no bones were broken, but he was considerably bruised from which he is still suffering.

PAUL M. MOORE WILL STAY ON THE TICKET

Issues Letter to Voters Stating Facts—Name Will be Printed on the Ballots.

TO THE REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF THE SECOND CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT OF KENTUCKY:

The Republican District Committee of this district made call for District Convention to be held at Dawson Springs, October 9th, to nominate candidate for Congress. By the terms of that call all candidates were required to give written notice of their candidacy to the District Chairman by September 20th. Three persons complied therewith, viz: Hon. David Browning, Col. M. D. Brown and myself. The two gentlemen named later withdrew in my favor. It was discovered, I just in time to remedy the error, that the date fixed was too late for a legal convention to be held. If therefore became necessary for me to become the legal candidate by petition, which was accordingly done by my friends in various parts of the district. As I had complied with the terms of the party call and had become the legal nominee of the party, by petition and was the only candidate whose name could go upon the official ballot, the District Convention was only considered as a perfunctory meeting to ratify my lawful nomination. It is true that several gentlemen were urged to enter against me, notwithstanding they could not in the circumstances be the lawful nominees of the party. Of course they declined to do so, having some sense of propriety and some self respect, and party loyalty. My friends over the district naturally concluded that no fight would be made against me and assumed that no one would be so heedless of party good as to prevent the party from having any legal candidate in the district. Hence they relaxed their vigilance and in certain counties made little or no effort to control the county conventions. However, certain elements of opposition took advantage of the situation and selected unfriendly delegates, who unlawfully undertook to make the District Convention a nominating convention, selecting Mr. Adair as their choice. Mr. Adair did not comply with the call of the District Committee; it is impossible for his name to be printed on the official ballots; he was not selected by a convention with legal authority to nominate; he is not the lawful party nominee; and I am sure he is a man of too high sense of honor to permit himself to be placed in the attitude of claiming to be the party nominee. I am disappointed by the party all over the district not to withdraw my name as the legal nominee of the party. Personally I would gladly withdraw, if I could do so honorably and if it were possible for our party to have any candidate at the coming election. But we are confronted with a situation which must be met by me regardless of any personal wishes. The question is: Shall the rank and file of the party in this district have no candidate whatever to vote for at the coming election? I am the legal nominee. This is no time to attack those who unexpectedly made effort to select delegates unfriendly to my nomination. I have very decided convictions of certain gross improprieties, but these matters should be buried for the welfare of the party. Upon due reflection I have concluded that it is my clear duty to remain as the candidate of the Republican party in this district, and I am confident that this is the wish of the whole party. The voters of our party demand a candidate for whom they may vote at the coming election, and for them I am willing to make the fight even at great personal sacrifice. I believe that every true Republican owes the duty at this election to vote for candidates in hearty sympathy with the matchless administration of our great President, Theodore Roosevelt. In this spirit I ask the earnest support of every loyal Republican in this district.

The Secretary of State today certified my nomination to each County Court Clerk in the district, instructing them to have my name printed on the ballots under the "Log Cabin," as the law requires they shall do.

Respectfully,

PAUL M. MOORE

New Opera House for Hopkinsville.

At a meeting of citizens at Hotel Latham in Hopkinsville in the interest of the proposition to build a new theater, the steps taken and the enthusiasm manifested made the outlook for the enterprise highly encouraging, and there is every reason to believe that by the beginning of another season Hopkinsville will have a playhouse worthy of the city.

The committee appointed formulated plans to put the matter squarely up to the people. It is understood that if $20,000 stock is subscribed the committee will undertake to place a bond issue of $20,000. A handsome start was made when a number of the citizens subscribed amounts ranging from $100 to $1,000.

Henderson Elks Spend $15,000 on Home.

The local Lodge of Elks adopted the report of the Finance Committee as to the issuing of $15,000 worth of bonds for the remodeling and equipping of the Elks' Home recently purchased. The home was the Atkinson residence and in days gone was one of the handsomest in the city. It will be thoroughly remodeled and handsomely furnished.

Will Start Chicken Farm

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Keown will move to Brookside farm, about two miles from Earlington, and will engage in raising fine breed of chickens for the market. Mr. Keown has for quite a number of years been a chicken fancier and has a great deal of experience in the business. He will continue to run his barber shop here in Earlington, however, and early mornings and evenings will attend to his chickens. He will handle a pure strain of Barred Rocks and Buff Orpington and his friends predict he will make a success out of this venture.

There are 600 negro applicants for membership in the proposed branch.

FOUR THOUSAND

Uniform Pythians in big Parade at New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 16.—The Pythian convention was fully inaugurated today, proceeding simultaneously in several departments. These included the encampment of the Uniform Rank, the opening session of the Supreme Lodge, and the opening exercises of each of the three following:

Convention of Supreme Temple, Rathbone Sisters; Grand Keepers of Records and Seals Association, and National Pythian Editorial Association.

The business sessions occupied the morning hours, while the afternoon was given over to the general parade of the Uniform Rank. Several thousand visitors came into the city to watch the Pythians march. It was estimated that with late arrivals this morning about 4,000 uniformed men would be in line.

The evening hours were set for the first contest of the convention, that of companies of the Uniform Rank for the best exemplification of the ritual.

Following a drizzle of rain during the first night in camp more wet weather was promised for today. Nevertheless the Pythians in their town of tents at City Park race track made light of weather conditions, placing their tables, many of which were supplied by their own mess cooks, under shelter of the sheds and grand stand and inviting their ladies to these picturesque meals.

TWO YEARS FOR CASH

For Killing Sam Chambliss at Dawson—New Trial Granted.

In the case of the Commonwealth against Cash charged with killing Sam Chambliss last summer at Dawson Springs the jury returned a verdict of manslaughter fixing his punishment at two years in the penitentiary.

His attorneys at once made motion for a new trial alleging that the court misinstructed the jury in his instructions relative to the rebuttal testimony offered on the character of young Cash.

Judge Gordon had an order entered granting him a new trial. Cash gave bond and was released from custody until the next term of circuit court. The evidence in the case went to prove that young Cash shot Chambliss in defense of his father.

OUT FORTY-EIGHT HOURS

But Jury Failed to Agree in Jones Case.

Although the jury was out forty eight hours in the case of Isaac Jones charged with killing Robert Wyatt the jury reported Friday to Judge Gordon and said they were hopelessly hung and could not reach a verdict. The Judge questioned them as to whether or not they could reach a verdict if given more time. They said no they could not agree. They were then discharged.

It is said the jury stood two for acquittal and ten for manslaughter but this is supposition. The case will be re-tried at the next term of court.

DIES ON TRAIN

Sam Jones, the Noted Evangelist, Dies While Enroute Home.

HEART FAILURE GIVEN AS CAUSE.

Rev. Sam P. Jones, the well known evangelist of Cartersville, Ga., died suddenly Oct. 15 of heart failure on a sleeping car on a train on the Rock Island railroad, near Perry, Ark., en route home from Oklahoma City, O. T., where he had been conducting a most successful revival. He desired to attend a family reunion Tuesday it being the fifty-ninth anniversary of his birth. Mrs. Jones and his daughters, Mrs. Annie Pyron and Miss Julia Jones, were with him when he passed away.

Mr. Jones arose from his berth in the sleeper about five o'clock in the morning and complained of sickness in his stomach. He drank a glass of hot water and immediately collapsed. The body was embalmed and shipped to Cartersville Monday afternoon where the interment was held.

Sam Jones was the most successful evangelist in the United States. He had a peculiar way of his own in expressing himself in plain and forceful language and reached hundreds of people not susceptible to other influence. He was a man of good address and attractive.

The special train bearing the remains of the Rev. Sam P. Jones arrived at Cartersville at 2 o'clock Tuesday and was met by the City Council in a body, and about 3,000 persons. All business was suspended, and public schools and city offices were closed while the remains were being borne to the Jones' residence.

Funeral services will be held today at 2 o'clock in the Sam Jones' Tabernacle.

The remains will be taken to Atlanta Friday morning, and will lie in state in the Capitol all of that day. The body will then be brought back to Cartersville for interment.

A NEW LIFE-SAVING BOAT.
Unique Craft Invented by Capt. Ole Brude in Which He Recently Crossed the Atlantic.

London.—The strange-looking vessel below is the invention of a Norwegian, Capt. Ole Brude.

He claims that it is a completely reliable life-saving boat and will safely through the wildest storm. Ready to back up his words by deeds, he took his craft, the Uraal, a 3,000-mile voyage across the Atlantic. With a crew of four men, the little vessel sailed from Alesund, in Norway, to Gloucester, Mass., and arrived without serious damage after an extremely stormy passage.

The plucky captain undertook the voyage both to demonstrate the usefulness of his boat and to win a prize of $38,000.

The Uraal is only 18 feet long, with an 8-foot beam. She is egg-shaped, and it is owing to her peculiar form that she is able to ride safely over big Atlantic rollers, that would swamp an ordinary boat of her size.

Capt. Brude is very proud of his little craft, and has great hopes that his invention will prove of inestimable service to sailors, and minimize loss of life in cases of wreck or collision.

He certainly has the courage of his convictions. It is no light undertaking to sail 3,000 miles across the Atlantic in an 18-foot sailing vessel.

INDICTMENT

UNITED STATES GRAND JURY IN MISSISSIPPI INSERTS
A PROBE.

STANDARD OF INDIANA

Penalty for Each Offense All the Way
From One Thousand to Twenty Thousand Dollars.

Jackson, Miss., Oct. 17.—The grand jury of the special term of the United States district court, Judge John E. McCall, presiding, has returned a voluminous indictment against the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana. The charge is transportation of separate carloads of oil at rates discriminating in favor of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana. Alleged illegal shipments for the past three years are covered.

The indictment contains 1,524 counts, each count constituting a separate offense. The maximum penalty for each is $20,000 fine, and the minimum is $1,000. The maximum total fine upon conviction would reach $30,480,000; the minimum would be $1,524,000. The document contains about 500,000 words.

Causes of the Indictment.
The indictment is the outcome of the investigation made by Commissioner Garfield, of the bureau of corporations, department of commerce and labor, and deals with that part of Mr. Garfield's report which he calls "the Grand Junction rate." This was an alleged secret arrangement whereby it is charged the Standard was enabled to ship oil from Whiting, Ind., to the south, especially South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Mississippi and Alabama, at a rate much lower than the minimum legal tariff by a combination over four or more roads, and by way of obscure junction points, of which latter Grand Junction was one.

"I do not desire to speak ill of the emperor, who is still my imperial master, and to whom I owe everything, nor of the government, nor of my country, but I have had enough. You cannot make that statement too emphatic."

It is an open secret that Count Witte would have greater confidence in Russian finances if the ministry were in stronger hands.

He declined to express his opinion of M. Kokovsov, the present minister of finance, but smiled significantly when the correspondent reminded him of a conversation held several months ago in which he characterized Kokovsov as a "great man for small affairs."

Count Witte said he had no present intention of visiting the United States. He is still under medical treatment, and his future plans have not been determined.

"I repeat what I have uttered on a recent occasion, every lot of influence that we possess should be used to get rid of the criminal and loafing element of our people, and to make decent, law-abiding citizens."

Ruby-Morton Wedding.

Probably the most beautiful wedding that Madisonville society has ever witnessed was that of Miss Mary Aileen Morton and Mr. Clyde Ruby which occurred at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Chas. Everett Morton on South Main, at eight o'clock, Tuesday evening.

This elegant home was artistically decorated in green and white; vines, chrysanthemums, carnations and roses were used in profusion. In the dining room where the ceremony was performed was a bower of vines, flowers and palms. The bride party stood beneath an immense bell of white and green. Promptly at the hour the party entered to the strains of Lohengrin passing up an aisle formed of white ribbon held by little Miss Virginia Holeman and Master John G. Morton. The bridesmaids coming first were followed by the maid of honor, then came the bride leaning on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Wm. C. Morton. The groom and best man entered from the side door.

The bride was gowned in heavy lustrous white chiffon, cloth handsomely trimmed in lace, she also wore a veil of tulle fastened with one feathery white chrysanthemum. The bridesmaids were gowned in white radium silk and carried white chrysanthemums. Miss Nevelene Morton, maid of honor, wore a lovely gown of green radium silk, forming the artistic bit of color in all this snowy whiteness and also carrying out the color scheme in detail. As might be seen everywhere, in the supper room where the bridal party was served where roses and smilax and green shaded candelabra were used and also in the ices and cakes.

The presents were very handsome and numerous. These young people are both too well known in Earlington and Madisonville to need any comment. The party left on the midnight train for an extended trip.

PRODUCTION OF COAL

In 1905 Surpasses all Previous Records in the United States.

Both in quantity and value, the production of coal in 1905 surpassed all previous records in the history of the United States. The output according to a forthcoming report of Mr. Edward W. Parker, statistician of the United States Geological Survey, amounted to 392,919,341 short tons, which had a value at the mines of $479,756,983. Compared with 1904, when the production amounted to 351,816,396 short tons, valued at $444,371,021, the output in 1905 exhibits an increase of 41,102,945 short tons, or 11.7 per cent in quantity, and of $22,385,962 or 7.3 per cent in value. Prior to 1905 the maximum output of coal was obtained in 1903, when the production amounted to 357,356,416 short tons, valued at $409,263,261, compared with which the record for 1906 shows an increase in production of 35,562,925 short tons, and of $29,967,418. The high value recorded in the statistics for 1905 was due to the somewhat abnormal inflation of prices, caused by the shortage of fuel supplies, which resulted from the strike in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania in the preceding year. The lower values in 1904 as compared with 1903 were simply a return to normal conditions, but the decline in 1905 was the result of a production in excess of market requirements, unusually large as they were.

Of the total production in 1905, 69,339,152 long tons (equivalent to 77,659,850 short tons) were Pennsylvania anthracite, and a value at the mines of $141,579,000. The total production of bituminous coal and lignite was 315,569,491 short tons, valued at $334,577,983. The production of anthracite coal in Pennsylvania in 1905 was 4,316,692 long tons (or 4,508,161 short tons) more than that of 1904, while the increase in the production of bituminous coal and lignite was 36,699,882 short tons. A portion of these increases in both anthracite and bituminous production was due to the efforts of operating companies to provide a supply of fuel in anticipation of a suspension of mining in April, 1906, which the wage scale agreements in the organized coal producing States and the award of the Strike Commission in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania would terminate.

It is a fact worthy of note that the total increase in the production of coal in the United States in 1905 over 1904 was larger than the production of France in 1904, or of any other foreign country except Great Britain, Germany and Austria-Hungary, and was almost equal to the production of Austria-Hungary. The total production of this country last year was nearly 60 per cent larger than that of Great Britain, which until 1905 was the leading coal-producing country of the world, and was more than double that of Germany. Another interesting fact presented in the statistics of the production of coal in the United States is that in each decade the output has been practically doubled. The larger part of the increased production in 1905 was due to the great activity in the iron industry, as is shown by the fact that the amount of coal made into coke increased from 31,378,657 short tons to 42,419,328 short tons, and that the larger increases were in the States that produce coking coal and those which furnish fuel to the iron furnaces.

Pithy Points for Pondering People.

Most everybody likes to see humanity in other people.

The redeeming feature of the pessimist is his acidity.

It is because some people try to get rich quickly that a good many others get rich that way.

Most parents are anxious for their sons and daughters to do right, but haven't the backbone to make them do it.

DO YOU KNOW

That Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine sold through druggists to women's weaknesses and peculiar ailments that does not contain large quantities of alcohol? It is the only medicine, especially prepared for the cure of the delicate diseases peculiar to women, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence, by printing upon each bottle wrapper all the ingredients entering into the medicine. Ask your druggist if this is not true.

Favorite Prescription, too, is the only medicine for women, all the ingredients of which have the unqualified endorsement of the leading medical writers of the several schools of practice, recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Prescription" is advised. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free booklet, and read numerous extracts from standard medical authorities praising the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicine are made, and don't forget that no other medicines put up for sale through druggists for domestic use can show any such professional endorsement. This of itself is of far more weight and importance than any amount of so-called "blatant" before the public, in favor of the alcoholic compounds.

The "Favorite Prescription" cures all a woman's peculiar weaknesses and derangements, thus banishing the periodical headaches, backaches, bearing-down distress, tenderness and dragging-down sensations in lower abdomen, accompanied by weakening and disagreeable catarrhal, pelvic drains and kindred symptoms. Dr. Pierce and his staff of skilled specialists may be consulted free by addressing as above. All correspondence is treated as strictly confidential. By consulting in this way the disagreeable questionings and personal "examinations" are avoided.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser contains some very interesting and valuable chapters on the diseases peculiar to women. It contains over one thousand pages. It is sent post paid, on receipt of sufficient in one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only, or 21 cents for a copy in flexible paper covers, or 31 cents for a cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One is laxative, two or three cathartic.

COULD NOT REST NIGHT OR DAY

With Irritating Skin Humor—Whole Body Affected—Scalp Itched All the Time and Hair Began to Fall Out—Wonderful Result From

APPLICATION OF CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I am never without Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment since I tried them last summer. About the latter part of July my whole body began to itch. I did not take much notice of it at first, but it began to get worse all the time, and then I began to get uneasy and tried all kinds of baths and other remedies that were recommended for skin humor, but I became worse all the time. My hair began to fall out and my scalp itched all the time. Especially at night, just as soon as I would get in bed and get warm, my whole body would begin to itch and my finger nails would keep it irritated, and it was not long before I could not rest night or day. A friend asked me to try the Cuticura Remedies, and I did. The first application helped me wonderfully. For about four weeks I would take a hot bath every night and then apply the Cuticura Ointment to my whole body; and I kept getting better, and by the time I used four boxes of Cuticura I was entirely cured, and my hair stopped falling out, but I continue to use the Cuticura on my scalp. It keeps all dandruff out and scalp is always clean. I always use Cuticura Ointment on my face after shaving, and have found nothing to equal it. I will never be without it." D. E. Blankenship, 319 N. Del. St., Indianapolis, Ind. Oct. 27, 1905.

RECOMMENDED TO ALL MOTHERS

"I have used Cuticura Ointment for chafes of infants, and as they grow older all skin diseases were given treatment with that and the Cuticura Soap. I never found it necessary to call a doctor, as these Remedies are a sure cure, if used as directed. I am glad to recommend them to all mothers." Sincerely yours, Mrs. F. A. Kennard, June 21, 1905, 319 N. Del. Park, Minn.

Fall Trade Will Be Fine.

Not within the last ten years has the outlook for a fine fall and winter trade been so flattering. The farmers in every section of the county have splendid crops, and when good crops are produced they spend money. All merchants report their sales very much better than the same time last year. They have laid in a fine lot of all kinds of merchandise, and are ready for all comers.

Now the very best way to get your goods before the buying public is to advertise. There are many different ways to advertise, but the best way is to place your ads in a newspaper having the largest circulation in the town or community you want to reach. Now if you are a Madisonville merchant and want Earlinton trade you would naturally advertise in THE EARLINGTON BEE.

A New Orleans girl was married on a tug at sea during a storm, evidently feeling that she could hardly make matters worse.

Is this not a nice gift. Any lot we have is worth more money now than the price we ask for it, and in 12 or 18 months when the M. H. & E. Railroad will have been completed and the first passenger train runs in to north Madisonville and the conductor sings out "all out for Madisonville," just then these lots are worth three times the price we are selling them at now.

Enthusiasm.

As you slide along past youth into middle age get a good grip on your enthusiasms. Life looks black after they are gone. It is a good thing, too, to renew your own life in the intimate interest in the life of some young friend. Few things are more helpful or more beautiful than friendship between the young and the old. They have everything to give to each other. What is most pitiful in both—youth's uncertainty and need of encouraging sympathy, age's unfulfillments and need of softening tenderness—is soothed and neutralized by a sharing of interests and affections.

Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me by a friend, and I immediately sent my son to get a bottle of it, and after taking three bottles I began to get better and continued to improve until I am entirely well."

Not What He Was Used To.

Ever since John D. Rockefeller became an honorary member of the American Press Humorists' association stories more or less apocryphal have been afloat concerning him. It is beginning to be suspected that some of them have been invented by his fellow humorists. One of the latest refers to an occasion last summer when he entertained a troupe of children at his stock farm near Cleveland. Mr. Rockefeller gave each of them, among other things, some milk to drink, part of it at least being the product of a $2000 prize cow. How do you like it?" he asked when they had finished. "Gee, it's fine!" responded one little fellow, who added after a thoughtful pause: "I wish our milkman kept a cow!"

"HELLO, CENTRAL!"
Wonders Have Been Wrought Since First Call in 1878.

"Hello, Central!" was first heard in 1878. Today the exchanges are numbered by the thousands, the telephones by the millions. Various industries, unknown thirty years ago, have sprung into employment to many thousands of workers, depend entirely upon the telephone for support. Numerous factories making lead sheeting, dynamo, motors, generators, batteries, office equipment, tables and many other appliances, would have to close down and thus throw their operators into idleness and misery if the telephone bell should cease to ring.

The Bell Company employ over 50,000 persons, and it may be added, pay them well. Many of these employes have families to maintain; others support their parents or aid younger brothers and sisters. It is safe to say that 50,000 people look to the telephone for their daily bread. These figures may be supplemented by the number of telephones in use ($688,000) by the number of miles of wire (6,048,000) in the Bell lines, and by the number of conversations (2,476,000) electrically conveyed in 1905. The network of wire connects more than 38,000 cities, towns, villages and hamlets. Such tremendous growth of business statistics and need not only a steadily increased appreciation of the telephone, but would also suggest improved instruments, more skillful operators and better service. There would be no doubt in our suggestion. Electrical science has undergone radical reformation since 1878. Telephony has raised the utilization of electricity to the height of a profession. Of course, such advances have not been made without cost. Fortunes were spent in experiment and investigation before a dollar came back. Communication by the first telephone was limited to a few thousand feet. Now conversation can be carried on between persons 1,000 miles apart. To-morrow long distance lines will span the continent; and the day after oceanic telephony will be a commonplace of mercantile routine. But science and money had to collaborate for years before they could work the miracle of enabling Boston and Omaha to talk together.

DROVE STAGE IN OLDEN DAYS.

Milton Gowdy Frequently Carried Lincoln as a Passenger.

Bloomington, Ill.—Milton W. Gowdy, of Rock Island county, is the last survivor of the group of men who drove the stage coaches in Illinois before the advent of the railroads. He was born in Tennessee in 1832. At the age of 19 years he secured employment as driver with Frink & Walker, the firm which controlled nearly all the stage lines of Illinois and adjoining states and had the contract for carrying the United States mails.

Mr. Gowdy drove the stage for many years between Peoria and Springfield and frequently carried Abraham Lincoln as a box-seat passenger.

MILTON GOWDY.
(Illinois Man Who Drove a Stage Coach in Early Days of the State.)

senior. Mr. Gowdy was never molested by robbers, although on one occasion he hauled $500,000 in gold from Pekin to Peoria.

It is doubtful if even among the railroad officials of today there can be found any who possess greater energy and executive ability than did Frink & Walker, whose stage lines covered the entire west. As the country became fitted up with settlers, rival stage lines were organized to handle the ever increasing business.

At times the rival lines cut rates and endeavored to outclass the other in time between Chicago, Galena, Peoria, Rock Island and other points to the south and west, and it was not unusual in the '40's and '50's to see a double decker coach come dashing into town with four horses on the lead run, change horses and start out again as fast as they came in. The old-time coach has passed from sight and almost from the memory of man. Mr. Gowdy, the last of the old-time drivers, has four children, two in Mobile, one in Tremont and the fourth in Springfield, Mass.

FLIGHT SAVED SLAYER

SHERIFF SAFELY JAILS MURDERER OF AN ENTIRE FAMILY.

PLACED IN SPRINGFIELD JAIL

Youth Who Shoots Man and Clubs a Woman and Three Children to Death, Saved From Mob.

Springfield, Mo., Oct. 15.—Sheriff Woods, of Texas county, at the head of twenty deputies, heavily armed, safely landed his prisoner, Joseph Hamilton, self-confessed slayer of the Parsons family, at Licking, Mo., at Cabool, after a thrilling night's ride of 25 miles across the Ozark mountains, frustrating the efforts of a mob which had gathered to lynch the murderer.

At Cabool the sheriff placed his prisoner on the Kansas City Limited, No. 206, bound for Memphis, and brought him to Springfield.

Fearing an outbreak in this city, where the story of the crime had become known, Sheriff Woods and his deputies took the prisoner off the car on the side away from the station platform and spirited him to a carriage which had been driven up into the rear yards. Hamilton was driven in a roundabout way to the jail and lodged in a cell at 4:45 o'clock Monday morning.

Story of the Crime.

At a timber-bordered place in the road, as Parsons and his family were driving along, they were confronted by Hamilton, armed with a shotgun. He deliberately aimed at Parsons, Hamilton discharged both barrels of the gun, and Parsons fell to the ground. Hamilton then advanced upon him, and clubbed him over the head with the butt of the gun several times. He then beat the head of the mother almost to a pulp, and after killing her, clubbed the three children to death. The body of all five were loaded into a wagon, and taken to Big Piney creek, about one mile distant from the scene of the murder, and dumped into the creek.

CHAMPIONS OF THE WORLD

AMERICAN TEAM ENTITLED TO THAT DISTINCTION.

Defeated the Nationals in Four Out of the Six Games in a Great Contest.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—The Chicago club of the American league is the champion of the world. By winning Sunday's game, 8 to 3, against the local club of the National, the Americans earned the right to float the world's championship pennant as well as the pennant of the American league, to ride to the grounds next season in carriages and to have "WORLD'S CHAMPIONS" lettered on the blankets worn by their horses. Sunday's game was the sixth of the series, and the fourth victory for the Americans. When the last National batsman had gone out, and the stunning fact that new champions had been created hurled its impression through thousands of excited minds crowd surged around the box wherein sat Charles W. Murphy, president of the losing club.

"The Best Team Won."
He smiled gamely at requests for a speech. "The best team won," he said. "They won because they played the better ball."

Cheer after cheer followed this speech, but they were lost to the hearing of most of the crowd, which was busily cheering other things—the individual players, players collectively, and thumping said players on the backs with such enthusiasm that every one of them had to fight a way out to the waiting carriages, and cheers for the losers were not lacking. They had lost the greatest distinction which baseball offers to its votaries, but they were still a great team, and the crowd which followed their carriages through crowded blocks did not spare their throats in saying so.

Comiskey's Face was wreathed in smiles long before the game was over, for the Americans put the victory in storeroom in the first two innings. Comiskey shook hands with such of his players as he could reach. The others were fighting to save themselves from the Americans. The latter also made the greater number of extra base hits, but the ground rules made nearly all of them good for only two bases.

Among the expert critics of baseball it is generally admitted that to the American pitchers most of the credit is due.

Victory Fairly Won.
That the victory was a fairly earned one is shown not only by the fact that the Americans won four out of six games, incidentally making it unnecessary to play the seventh, but by the hits and runs. The Americans, all told, made 22 runs compared with 15 by the Nationals. The Nationals made but 5 errors, compared with 14 by the Americans. The latter also made the greater number of extra base hits, but the ground rules made nearly all of them good for only two bases.

Among the expert critics of baseball it is generally admitted that to the American pitchers most of the credit is due.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD

FASTEST TIME EVER MADE ON AMERICAN RACE COURSE.

7 FURLONGS RUN IN 1:22

Rosen Run 7 Furlongs in 1:22 Sent
Against Time, and Clips Off Half
Mile in 48.8 Seconds.

New York, Oct. 17.—D. C. Johnson's Rosen, carrying 126 pounds, created a new world's record for seven furlongs, when he won the fifth race at Belmont park. He stepped the distance in the fastest time ever made on an American race course, 1:22. When he finished, and the phenomenal time was hung by the official time, the big crowd arose and gave the great sprinter a rousing cheer, which continued for several minutes. It was the fact that he was quoted at 1 to 80 in the betting, and they were unable to bet on him. Johnson and Frank Parrell are reported to have won over $25,000 on his victory, as they bet that the son of Hensstrom would run faster than 1:25.

Half Mile in 48.8 Seconds.

Fourteen horses were carded to go in this event, but they were all scratched except Beaucative, and it was after the withdrawals that it was decided to send him against time. Rosen broke very quickly at the barrier and ran the first furlong in 15 seconds; he kept at that clip and passed the quarter pole in 23.45, going easily. Shaw kept the horse close to the rail all the way, and Rosen ran the three eighths of a mile in 35.15. Around the long up turn, the favorite continued in faultless style, and flashed by the half mile in 46.45. He came into the stretch the high wind was behind him and he came to the three quarter mark in 1:10.55. Shaw took no chances, but rode Rosen out, coming under the wire a winner in 1:22.

The best previous time was 1:24.45, held by Halifax, around the turn, and the straightaway record was held by Della B, 1:23.44, made in 1890 at Monmouth.

Yankee Fishermen the Transgressors on the Great Lakes.

Washington, Oct. 17.—The controversy which has been waged between the American and Canadian lake fishermen for the past twenty years, has been placed in an entirely different light by a report made to the state department by Capt. E. C. Chaytor, commanding the United States revenue cutter Morrill on the great lakes. The report shows in substance that the American fishermen have been transgressors and that they have been treated with the greatest consideration by the Canadian fishing patrol.

CATHEDRAL FALLING

HISTORIC STRUCTURE AT CO-LOGNE, GERMANY IN DANGER.

Greatest Piece of Gothic Architecture in the World is Crumbling to Pieces—Efforts Being Directed Toward Restoring It.

Cologne.—Cologne cathedral, the glory of the famous Rhenish city, is in a really dangerous state. Recently several pieces of carved stone fell to the street and passersby had many narrow escapes. The central portal of the cathedral was immediately closed. Since then great blocks of masonry have fallen away and more serious damage is feared. A committee of architects was summoned and the cathedral made an exhaustive examination and discovered that the masonry of both the chief entrance and the south entrance is loose and has crumbled to such an extent that the two portals were in danger of falling. Should this have occurred the damage might have been enormous. The facade has been shored up and the work of restoration will be at once begun. Rain is believed to have caused the damage, but the architects blame the German Romanesque builders of the Thirteenth century, for the columns are found not to be solid, but with pillars or piers. Of these at least 400 blocks are found to be loose.

Cologne cathedral is almost as well known in the United States as in Europe. It took over 600 years to complete, largely because of the neglect and sparsity of the church authorities in the three centuries preceding the nineteenth. The cathedral is acknowledged to be the finest piece of Gothic architecture in the world. It has been modern critics, who while conceding its beauty and terming it a noble and impressive example still declare it disappoints because the compass had been too much for the creative genius. The cathedral stands on the site of a previous structure built in 814, but burned down in the twelfth century. In 1248 the present cathedral was begun. The choir was finished in 1222, the nave in 1290 and the south tower in 1447. Then came centuries of neglect. In 1796 the French army used the cathedral to store hay in and also stripped the leaden roofs in order to make bullets. In 1823 an attempt was made to renovate and complete the structure, but little work was done until 1842, when the work was seriously taken in hand. The final touches were given in 1880 and on October 15 of that year the completion was celebrated by a service at which the kaiser, William I, was present. The building has cost over $10,000,000. The cathedral is 445 feet long and the famous spire, the highest in the world, are 228 feet. The central portal is 92 feet high and 31 feet wide and the south portal 28 feet high and 18 feet wide. These are the two portions at present in imminent danger. In shape the cathedral is a cruciform building. There are two choirs, the eastern dedicated to St. Peter, the western to St. Mary. Surrounding the choirs are eight chapels. A feature of great beauty is an external gallery around the apse. The reputed bones of the legendary three kings of the east are preserved in a golden shrine in one of the chapels, which are used as the cathedral's treasure vaults. The chapels also contain the tombs of several of the archbishops.

The narrow, crooked streets, containing houses of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries, have been obliterated from the neighborhood of the cathedral, which now stands, revealing all its beauty, in the center of a fine, open space.

Some year or two ago it was humorously stated in the German press that Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan was negotiating for the purchase of Cologne cathedral, desiring to remove it bodily to the United States to take the place of the Anglican cathedral of St. John the Divine, now slowly building in New York city.

Dear Sir:—It is a source of pleasure for me to permit you to use my picture before and after cured by "ZEMO," and to tell what "ZEMO" did for me. MINING NOTES.

Pat Blair, of Mortons Gap, visited relatives here Sunday.

A new motor was installed at Arnold mine this week and gives satisfaction.

The Straight Creek Coal Co., of Carter county, was incorporated at Frankfort Monday with $25,000 capital stock.

The West Kentucky Coal Company at Wheatcroft, is having an addition of twenty rooms built to the former residence of Col. I. H. Wheatcroft and will turn the building into a hotel.

The electrical force of the St. Bernard Mining Company was busily engaged in stringing wires and arranging other details incident to the installing of the motor at Arnold mine the latter part of last week.

The Blackwell Coal Company, Clay, Ky., is preparing to sink a new shaft in Crab Orchard bottom on the M. & A. railroad and will install a complete mining plant there. They will reach coal at a depth of seventy-five feet.

Mr. Jas. T. Stiman, former cashier of the Webster County Bank at Clay, has resigned the position to accept the place of general manager of the Blackwell Coal & Mining Company, in which corporation he is a large stockholder. He still retains his stock in the bank, also.

The cold weather of last week caught the coal dealers of Owensboro unprepared and they were unable to supply the demand for coal. This, with the closing down of one of the mines near there which usually supplies a great deal of the local trade, caused a coal famine, and the arrival of warmer weather was gladly welcomed by the people of that city.

The Southern Tidewater Coal Company, of Uniontown, Ky., is seriously contemplating sinking another shaft. It will be situated in the coal company's hills above Uniontown. The Southern Tidewater mines are now working only seventy-five men but will shortly increase that number considerably. In a few days a hundred men will be put to work.

That there is a possibility of a coal famine in Evansville during the coming winter is admitted by retail dealers of Evansville. An advance of 25 cents a ton was made and a further increase in the price to the customers is expected before Christmas arrives. The reasons assigned for the prevailing conditions are that the operators have used all their reserve supply to meet the public demand, advance in price of labor, car shortage and scarcity of labor.

The North Jellico Coal Company, of Louisville, has closed a contract for 5,000 acres of coal and timber lands in the new Straight creek fields of Bell county, being reached by an extension of the Louisville & Nashville. The price was $150,000. It is reported the purchase was made for the Speed Coal Company. Several other large deals have lately been made in the new field, which is one of the richest in coal deposits in Eastern Kentucky. The Straight Creek Coal Company, composed in great part of Louisville capital, will expend a large sum in further developments in the new fields.

A big contract involving over two million dollars a year has been entered into between the Big Sandy Company and the Cincinnati, O., Gas, Coke, Coal and Mining Company, subsidiary of the Union Gas and Electric Company. President Chas. Heller, of the Big Sandy Company, states that the Cincinnati concern has contracted to take the entire output of the ten mines controlled by his company. These mines are in Eastern Kentucky. They are Henry Clay, Pike; Marrow-Bone and the Edgewater Coal and Coke Companies, each of which has two mines, one on upper Elkton and one on lower Elkton creeks. The contract is for a period of ten years.

There are three successive phases distinguishable in the formation of coal. First the accumulation of vegetable matter; second, the work done by chemical reactions under water, including the complete dehydration, and deoxidation of the cellulose during which phase, the mass shrinks from 10 to 30 per cent of the original volume of accumulated vegetable matter; third, the work subsequently done by chemical reactions underground. The last is the period of "posthumous molecular displacement," wherein the vegetable remains are bituminized, or as the case may be, silicified, ferruginized and pyritized. The causes responsible for the variations in the character of the different coal seams, are various; one reason is found in the different character of the vegetable remains, also the variations in the conditions of maceration due to the depth of the water overlying the deposits; and lastly, the character of the coal is influenced by the differences in desiccation, aeration and pressure due to the thickness of the deposit, and nature of the roof.

A Political Psalm.

The politician is my shepherd, I shall not want for anything during the campaign. He leadeth me into the saloon for my vote's sake. He fillets my pocket with good cigars; my cup of beer runneth over. He inquireth concerning my family, even unto the fourth generation. Yea, though I walk through the rain and the mud and vote for him and yell for myself hoarse when he is elected straightway he forgetteth me. Although I meet him at his own house he knoweth me not. Surely the wool has been pulled over my eyes all the days of my life and I shall dwell in the house of a clump forever.—Ex.

Decrease of 27.83 per Cent According to Advance Statement.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Postmaster General Cortelyou has given out an advance statement of the receipts and expenditures of the postal service for the fiscal year ended June 30 last. It shows a reduction of the annual deficit from $14,572,594, for 1905, to $10,516,996, for 1906, or, in other words, over four millions of dollars, or 27.83 per cent.

The total receipts for 1906 were $107,932,783, an increase over 1905 of $15,106,198, which is the greatest increase for any year in the history of the service. The per cent of increase in receipts for 1906 is 9.88, as compared with 6.42 for 1905.

The total expenditures during 1906 were $178,449,779, an increase of $11,050,610 over 1905. The per cent of increase in expenditures is less than for a number of years, and is smaller by one-third than the per cent of increase during 1905.
